Art Unit: 1618

Claims 1-3 are presented for examination.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Malfroy-Caine et al. (U.S. patent 6,046,188) in view of Crapo et al. (U.S. Patent 5,994,339) and Winkler et al. (Molecular vision 1999).

Art Unit: 1618

Malfroy-Camine et al. teach the use of the claim-designated compounds as antioxidants having superoxide dismutase activity. See column 2, lines 22-55. The above reference differs from the claimed invention in the use of the compounds for the treatment of disorders such as macular degeneration, DR, and /or retinal edema. Crapo et al. teach that the compounds of similar structure, which are SOD mimetic, can be used for the treatment of disorders such as glaucoma and macular degeneration. See column 2, lines 51-60, column 9, lines 49-65 and column 16, lines 59-63. Winkler et al. teach the role of oxidation in relation to macular degeneration, and the effect of superoxide dismutase in preventing oxidative damage. See the abstract. It would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art to use a compound having SOD mimetic activity for the treatment of disorders such as macular degeneration, considering that Crapo et al. teach the use of the compounds with SOD mimetic activity for the treatment of macular degeneration, and Winkler et al. teach a correlation between the oxidative damage and macular degeneration and the use of compounds with SOD activity for preventing such damage.

One skilled in the art would have been motivated to combine the teachings of the above references, since one relates to the use of the claimed compounds having SOD activity and the other two relate to the use of compounds with SOD activity for the treatment of macular degeneration, and a correlation between the oxidative damage and macular degeneration, and the use of compounds with SOD activity for the treatment of such condition. The above references in combination make clear that the claimed compounds are antioxidants having SOD activity. The above references also teach a correlation between oxidative damage and macular degeneration and the use of compounds having SOD activity for prevention of such damage. Applicant has presented no evidence to establish the unexpected or unobvious nature of the claimed invention, and as such, claims 1-3 are properly rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-3 provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 10/729,222. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
